JANEL L. CARROLL

Just what you need to know and do NOW!

Whether you're a student or an instructor, CengageNOW™ is an online teaching and learning resource that gives you more control in less time and delivers better outcomes—NOW.

➔ A multimedia resource that helps students study smarter!

For students, CengageNOW Personalized Study is a diagnostic tool consisting of chapter-specific resources, including a personalized study plan. Because students focus on what they don't know, they learn more in less time to get a better grade. Students work through learning modules featuring animations, videos, and pages from the Cengage Learning eBook.

➔ A time-saving tool for instructors

CengageNOW™ for Carroll's Sexuality Now: Embracing Diversity, Third Edition, offers teaching and learning resources in one intuitive program organized around the essential activities that instructors perform for class—lecturing, creating assignments, grading, quizzing, and tracking student performance. Flexible assignment and gradebook options provide instructors with more control while saving time in planning and managing course assignments.

➔ Special resources in CengageNOW for Sexuality Now

- The Cengage Learning eBook—an interactive online version of the text
- The Virtual Safer Sex Kit, featuring information about contraception, how to avoid sexually transmitted infections (STIs), and more
- Animations of the sexual response cycle
- Videos on a variety of human sexuality topics
- "What Do You Want to Know?" questions with audio student responses

About the Author

A certified sexuality educator with the American Association of Sexuality Educators, Counselors, and Therapists, Dr. Janell L. Carroll received her Ph.D. in human sexuality education in 1989 from the University of Pennsylvania. A dynamic educator, speaker, and author, she has published many articles, authored a syndicated sexuality column, and written two college-level textbooks on human sexuality. Dr. Carroll has traveled throughout the world exploring sexuality—from Egypt’s sex clinics, to Tokyo’s “love hotels,” and Amsterdam’s red-light district—and has been instrumental in the development of a television pilot exploring cross-cultural sex. She has lectured extensively, hosted radio talk shows, appeared on numerous television talk shows, and has been quoted in several national publications, Internet news media outlets, and cyber-press articles. Dr. Carroll has also published a popular press book for young girls about menstruation titled The Day Aunt Flo Comes to Visit.

On a personal level, Dr. Carroll feels it is her mission to educate students and the public at large about sexuality—to help people think and feel through the issues for themselves. Dr. Carroll’s success as a teacher comes from the fact that she loves her students as much as she loves what she teaches. She sees students’ questions about sex as the foundation for her course and has brought that attitude—along with her enthusiasm for helping them find answers—to the third edition of Sexuality Now.

Dr. Carroll has won several teaching awards, including University of Hartford’s Gordon Clark Ramsey Award for Creative Excellence, for sustained excellence and creativity in the classroom, and Planned Parenthood’s Sexuality Educator of the Year. Before teaching at University of Hartford, Dr. Carroll was a tenured psychology professor at Baker University, where she was honored with awards for Professor of the Year and Most Outstanding Person on Campus. Dr. Carroll’s website (<http://www.drjanellcarroll.com>) is a popular site for people to learn about sexuality and ask questions.
